INTRODUCTION.

THIS volume is the second of the series contemplated by the act of September 11, 1883, "for indexing the Public Records," although, logically, with all the other Indexes to the Journals, it precedes — as process does product — the "Index to the Laws," already printed.

It is a key to eight manuscript folio volumes, covering sixty-four years, from May 9, 1711, to July 15, 1775, all in the Provincial period.

In the first manuscript volume of the Council Records, the concurrent action of the Assembly is given as far back as 1699; but the separate minutes of the Representatives before 1711 are not to be found. The journal of the House is also missing from February 25, 1740, to December 13, 1741, nearly twenty-two months, which can only be partially supplied from the Council Records.

From August 25, 1730, to February 25, 1740, and from December 17, 1777, to June 29, 1780, there are duplicate journals, of which the fuller has been indexed.

To avoid an awkward fractional form, the year has in all cases before 1752, when "new style" begins, been indexed as commencing January 1; thus: March 19, 171 $\frac{2}{3}$, on page 58 of Volume 1, is indexed as 1713.

Lists of members, call-rolls, etc., are often bound in the original volumes out of chronological order; but in this index the year, rather than the volume, determines the arrangement of references.

Irregularities in paging are marked by *, †, ‡, etc., either before or after the page figure. P¹ or ¹P, and P² or ²P, denote a paging of the preface to Volume 8 preliminary to 1, 2, etc. Page 0 in Volume 5 precedes page 1.

Names of places mentioned in connection with county boundaries can be found in the references under "Counties," on page 93, and chiefly in Volume 7. They are not otherwise indexed.

From the preface to Volume III of the published "Provincial Papers" it appears that they contain only occasional extracts from the manuscript journals of the House from 1711 to 1722. A note on page 320 of Volume VI shows that, from April 30, 1722, to December 4, 1754, the journal of the House is printed entire; but, after the latter date, the joint proceedings of House and Council are given, indicating their concurrence or non-concurrence. The numbers of the manuscript pages being printed in brackets, this volume may be used, to some extent, as an index to the text.

Volume IV, page 309, year 1722, corresponds to 1:310; IV, 387, 1724, to 2:1; V, 167, 1742, to 3:29; V, 534, 1747, to 4:13; VI, 385, 1755, to 5:1; VI, 711, 1759, to 6:2; VII, 59, 1765, to 7:1; VII, 240, 1770, to 8:1.

The next volume of the Index, now in preparation, will embrace the House Journals of the Revolutionary period, 1776—1784, under Colony and State.
